

EMPOWER YOUR BUSINESS SYSTEMS.

Many organizations have several business systems that have been customized and broadened to support their unique needs, such as SAP, Oracle, ESRI, PeopleSoft and Great Plains. These provide specific functionality and support business operations for your organization.

Imagine being able to retrieve a complete set of documents or records from each of your Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems at the touch of a button. Our team of experts have built one of the most comprehensive strategies for collecting and archiving information from multiple business systems, into one central solution.

BUSINESS SYSTEMS INTEGRATION

Multiple departments working within various applications to access and compile documents can present a time consuming and costly challenge for your organization.

We'll work with your business to consolidate and archive information from within your business systems such as SAP, Oracle, ESRI, PeopleSoft and Great Plains. Users will be given the ability to retrieve relevant documentation relating to any transaction from across the organization, quickly and easily.

Process improvement and automation. Our team of professionals can leverage the existing infrastructure of your business systems and increase efficiency throughout each of your day-to-day business processes, resulting in significant time and cost saving benefits. With Enterprise Document Management supporting your existing infrastructure, your staff can continue to work from the software applications they are familiar with, eliminating the need for any additional training.

Consolidation of documents. Our solutions provide the ability to retrieve a complete set of documents from within your existing ERP systems via one central system. With automation opportunities for processing documents such as invoices, statements and notices, Business Systems Integration removes the manual labor from gathering documents relating to any transaction.

Governance, risk and compliance. We'll ensure your organization meets compliance and e-discovery requirements by creating a comprehensive security plan, including controlling access to documents, down to the document and user level. In addition, a robust document history is stored, allowing close monitoring of actions taken on documents as well as accurate reporting during audits.
